Unique/Competitive Programs: Drury has completely upended its approach to general education courses and is debuting its vastly different curriculum with the start of the 2019-20 school year. The program is called Your Drury Fusion and has already gained national attention - including a mention in Forbes magazine in early summer 2019 - for its disruption to higher education. Drury students will complete professional certificates in addition to earning majors and minors thus blending passion and profession. Also new this year - Drury's Robert and Mary Cox Compass Center will combine academic advising, career planning, and academic life coaching.
